COLUMBIA, S.C. – Governor Nikki Haley today signed Continuing Resolution H5418 into law, delivering tax relief to small businesses and preventing a state government shutdown.

“My number one goal is putting South Carolinians back to work. For that reason, we fought for tax relief, beginning when we introduced our executive budget, because when taxes are low and businesses have profit margins and cash flow, they can hire people and our economy grows.”

The continuing resolution delivers tax relief for all of the small businesses in South Carolina by reducing their tax rate down to a flat 3% rate over the next three years.
