FYI, we expect to provide updated guidance on whether we will have additional counties to evacuate this evening. I can text you around 6 pm to give you an update and you know if we will have a new EO to file this evening.

I expect we will use this EO but change the counties, so it should be faster. Let me know if that time frame will be okay for an update. I am copying Rebecca as I may be out of pocket some late afternoon for a funeral, and this will keep us all connected and on the same page.
