Description/Significant Features:

The single-story frame Minimal Traditional residence stands four bays wide and three piles deep, and rests on a brick foundation which is exposed on either gable end revealing a basement level. A side-gabled roof with composite shingles tops the house. The building is accessed through a centrally placed door on its facade, which is flanked on either side by replacement banded windows. A shed-roof porch supported by replacement turned posts frames the front porch and is likely altered. In addition to the facade, replacement windows are found on remaining elevations. Two interior brick chimney stacks rise from the roof- one centrally placed, and one on the left gable end.

Alterations (include date(s), if known):

replacement windows throughout (late-twentieth-century)
installation of modern decking on front elevation (late-twentieth-century)
front porch likely altered
