

From: StateScoop <news@statescoop.com>
Sent: Friday, January 13, 2017 11:30 AM
To: Haley, Nikki
Subject: Georgia launches new cyber innovation and training center

Bill challenges distracted driving in Washington state. Chao punts on questions of regulating emerging tech.

Not rendering correctly? View this email as a web page here.

Friday, Jan. 13, 2017

Georgia launches new cyber innovation and training center

A new center, located in close proximity to U.S. Army Cyber Command, will bring together academia, private industry and government to develop state and local cyber standards.

GET THE FULL SCOOP >>

Driving under the influence of electronics: Bill challenges distracted driving in Washington state

A new piece of bipartisan legislation is attempting to stop a run of distracted driving incidents across a state where the behavior is legal, a challenge many other states will be confronted with in coming years.

Read More >>

Chao punts on questions on regulating emerging transportation technology

In her nomination hearing, Transportation secretary pick Elaine Chao said the department would need to conduct a national conversation around the issues.

Read More >>

Solving homelessness is complicated, two mayors agree

Seattle Mayor Ed Murray and San Francisco Mayor Ed Lee detailed their ongoing shelter programs and the institutional challenges that stand between their cities and a shared goal to end one of society's most complicated problems.

Read More >>

StateScoop is a State & Local government IT media company, a one stop news source and the government IT community's platform for education and collaboration

StateScoop News 1150 18th Street NW Suite 850 Washington DC 20036 USA
You received this email because you are subscribed to StateScoop | DailyScoop from StateScoop News.
Update your email preferences to choose the types of emails you receive.
Unsubscribe from all future emails