South Carolina State Parks

A great place to view fall color, without making a trip to the mountains, is Poinsett State Park outside of Sumter. Only about a 30 minute drive from Columbia, Poinsett gives you that mountain feel in the Midlands of our state. We've got some videos we'll post to show off Poinsett!

Jim Revels I have been to this park several times with our scout troop. Beautiful place year round but especially this time of year. One of my top five favorite parks. Certainly worth checking out.

Scott Stamey Are the trails at Poinsett open every day now, or are they only open on Sundays like the biking trails in nearby Manchester?
