Subject: Webinar Announcement: July 9th MIND at Home: Introduction and Lessons Learned

Dear ADSSP, ADI, and Systems Integration Grantees and Collaborative Partners,

Registration is now open for the National Alzheimer's and Dementia Resource Center (formerly the ADSSP National Resource Center) Technical Assistance (TA) webinar on Thursday, July 9th from 3:00-4:00 pm Eastern. Please use the following link to register for the webinar: <https://webtraining.rti.org/registration/?eventid=d0eb05b3-b733-4d52-b2eb-b2d84ec66d58>. Detailed registration instructions are below. Please register at your earliest convenience.

The July 9th webinar will feature Dr. Quincy Samus who will present on the Maximizing Independence (MIND) at Home program. MIND at Home incorporates evidence-supported care practices to determine if these practices could delay or prevent the need to move from home to another setting, such as an assisted living facility or nursing home.

Dr. Quincy Samus, an Associate Professor in the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences, is an applied gerontologist, trained in epidemiology and health services research. She has served as PI or Investigator on numerous research projects focused on quality of care and delivery of health services to older adults and families affected primarily dementia, living in community and residential settings. She directs the Translational Aging Services Core (TASC) which aims to support development and evaluation of innovative, evidence-based practices that address the diverse needs of older adults with mental health conditions, their families, and caregivers and has worked directly with a variety of community stakeholders. The overarching goal of her work is to improve care through translation of evidence-based research.

We hope you will join us for this informative webinar. The webinar will be recorded for those who are unable to attend.
