

From: Andrew Clark <andrew@ij.com>
To: Adams, ChaneyChaneyAdams@gov.sc.gov
Date: 6/23/2015 12:45:08 PM
Subject: IJReview

---

Good afternoon Chaney,

Hope I tracked down the right email for you. I manage contributor content and op-eds IJReview.com, one of the largest viral social publishers online.

I wanted to extend an offer to Gov. Haley and your office to publish an op-ed at IJReview to further explain her decision to back the removal of the Confederate flag from the capitol grounds.

It can even be a joint op-ed with another Democratic leader in the State House, if you would like to give it a bipartisan tone.

IJReview has an audience of 35 million unique visitors per month, leaning center-right, but also strongly independent and more politically active than the average social media user. Our audience would be eager to hear from the Governor, unfiltered by the media and in her own words, on this issue. We can also micro-target the piece to our audiences in South Carolina as well, guaranteeing local saturation.

We're happy to work with you on this - I'm sure we aren't the first outlet to reach out to you, but please consider us in the mix!

--

Andrew Clark
Contributor Content Editor, IJReview.com
T: @AndrewHClark