- Paul Grimm is a doctor who has been jailed in Charleston SC for contempt of court in an Alimony dispute. He is a medical doctor. He has paid his exwife hundreds of thousands of dollars over the past 10 years or so. Putting him in jail without due process seems to me to be a more serious offence than not paying the alimony.

Having him in jail is not solving the problem. He should be released immediately so he can get back to work. He's not making any money in jail. Other means could have and should have been used to collect the back alimony and ensure timely payment

- You people in South Carolina can be proud that Dr. Grimm's wife and 10 year old son
- are struggling here in NC while sleazebag lawyers are making big money off their husband/
- father.
- Both my parents were born in SC and I use to have great respect for the state, but not any
- more.
