Stephanie Nodine The other problem I've run into (this was some time back, not sure if the policy's changed) is that you can't reserve for just a single night. You can only "walk up" to see if something's available. Not worth the drive from Charleston to find out, and also not worth paying for two nights when I can only stay one. These policies definitely seemed geared toward out of town vacationers to the exclusion of locals.

Sandra Loftis Would be really nice if there was a time frame that reservations would only be eligible for SC residents. Alot of county parks do this for their residents.
