Subject: Tropical Update

Good Morning,

Tropics? Bleh. Only feature of quasi-interest is a weak area of low pressure, 96L, in the Central Atlantic near 15N, 045W with all the ferocity of a '76 AMC Pacer. The consensus of the models has been to ignore this feature outright with regards to track and intensity. 96L does not have an environment conducive for intensification.

Elsewhere over the North Atlantic, Caribbean and GoMex, tropical storm formation is not expected.
