

Account: South Carolina State Parks

Content type: Facebook Page - Message threads

Record ID: 20161228unknownMessage-threads52748_t_10209759993694156

What you could do is have a contest - so many talented photographers share their pics from SC state parks. A winner for each month - I bet you could find a local printer that would do them for you at a lesser quantity. You can order them from anywhere now. You would definitely have to go small business instead of corporate. Make it fun!! Then the people who have their pic printed - they would want one - and to possibly give as gifts to family and friends. Just a thought - make it fun and inclusive and they would sell. :)

Participants: Mary Beth Richardson, South Carolina State Parks
at 16:02:43 on 12/28/2016 UTC

Mary Beth Richardson

at 18:09:37 on 12/26/2016 UTC

I was disappointed to find that you all don't do a calendar featuring different SC state parks. I have a friend that lives out of the country that I wanted to send one to. Perhaps this could be an idea that you could work on - I wouldn't do a huge printing of them but you could sell them online as well as put them in the stores. I would have bought at least one this year!! Happy New Year!!

South Carolina State Parks

at 15:59:08 on 12/28/2016 UTC

Thanks for passing along! We have thought about doing a calendar before, but most companies who do these, you have to purchase a very large quantity from and that has made us shy away from doing these. We will definitely keep your suggestion in mind for next year! Thanks again!

Mary Beth Richardson

at 16:02:43 on 12/28/2016 UTC

What you could do is have a contest - so many talented photographers share their pics from SC state parks. A winner for each month - I bet you could find a local printer that would do them for you at a lesser quantity. You can order them from anywhere now. You would definitely have to go small business instead of corporate. Make it fun!! Then the people who have their pic printed - they would want one - and to possibly give as gifts to family and friends. Just a thought - make it fun and inclusive and they would sell. :)