Don't Miss: The Next Chapter in Educational Choice, Not Your Daddy's Woodshop, and Accountability Works Workshop at #EIE14

Register Today for 2014 National Summit on Education Reform

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. - Former Florida Governor Jeb Bush and the Foundation for Excellence in Education (@Excelined) today announced the 2014 National Summit on Education Reform will feature conversations about lessons learned, the latest innovations, and proven policies for improving K-12 student achievement.

On November 20-21, former Governor Bush, chairman of the Foundation for Excellence in Education, will host the organization's seventh annual marquee education event. On November 20, three separate strategy sessions, composed of some of the world's leading experts, will take on issues relating to: education savings accounts and customized learning, career and technical education for today and tomorrow's students, and transitioning A-F school grading accountability systems.

The sessions will feature panelists covering some of the hottest topics and latest innovations in education:

- During the strategy session The Next Chapter in Educational Choice: Education Savings Accounts, panelists will explore the ins and outs of education savings accounts, the newest choice option.
- Join Not Your Daddy's Woodshop: Career and technical education in the 21st century to learn how some states' career and technical education programs can better prepare graduates for the technically complex jobs of the 21st century by including industry certifications.
- In Accountability Works Workshop: A-F school grading hear workshop participants share state strategies grading and discuss how to maintain accountability during the implementation of more rigorous standards and Governor Bush will open the summit with a morning keynote address on November 20. Our summit will feature discussion with a range of national and international leaders, covering some of the important topics and latest innovations in education, all focused on how to unlock student achievement through more choice and accountability.

Registration is now open, and space is going fast. For event details and to register, visit Excelined.org/National-Summit. Stay tuned for more announcements on the Summit's exciting agenda in the coming weeks. Members of the press interested in covering the two-day event must request credentials in advance of the start of the summit. Media registration will open online on Thursday, November 6, 2014.
