Announcing the 2014 Public Sector for the Future Summit!

Christian:

The 2014 Public Sector for the Future Summit: Creating the Agenda is fast approaching!

APPLY NOW

This new Summit, to be held June 10 – 12, 2014 at Harvard University, will convene together “Chief Transformation Officers” like you to create the future of government.

At the Summit we'll delve into what's on the “Uptake” – innovations and business models (such as shared services) that require robust leadership to implement yet are proven to increase effectiveness and efficiency. In addition, participants will grapple with what's on the “Edge” – innovations and business models (such as evidence-based budgeting) that are still emerging, yet are poised to deliver dramatic improvement in public value.

We'll explore these Uptake and Edge areas through cases and sessions including:

- How Massachusetts leveraged lessons learned in IT and HR shared services to embark on the nation's most ambitious real estate shared services initiative
- How the IRS grappled with a reform process that changed virtually every aspect of the organization – from human resources to information technology to processes
- How Pennsylvania and Montana are transforming their workforces while pursuing innovations in healthcare and mobility
- How New York City and other municipalities are using open data and analytics to create and innovate policy and programs
- How the U.S. Office of Management and Budget is testing behavioral economics to improve interactions with constituents and reform programs
- How Cass Sunstein, Summit Keynote Speaker, Harvard Law School professor and the nation's preeminent expert on behavioral economics, views the future of government
- And much more!

Lastly, and importantly, the Summit will address the critical leadership attributes required to choose a mix of collaborative strategies, governance models and technologies that will help you create an agenda for change and progress.

We have only a few seats left for this important Summit, so we encourage you to reserve your seat as soon as possible. The Summit is complimentary and there is no tuition or fee to attend; however, travel and hotel expenses are the responsibility of individual participants.*

On behalf of the LNW, Harvard and Accenture team, we hope to work with you at the Summit and look forward to seeing you in Cambridge!

There is no tuition charge or fee to attend this Summit. However, attendees will be responsible for their own transportation, lodging and other related personal expenses. The sponsors of this event (including the Technology and Entrepreneurship Center at Harvard, Leadership for a Networked World and Accenture) understand that the laws of many jurisdictions restrict private parties, private sector partners and/or government contractors from providing gifts or other things of value to government officials, and in some cases require reporting of such gifts. Likewise, some government officials are restricted from accepting gifts or other things of value in many jurisdictions. Although no admission is being charged to any attendee, if required by law, regulation, policy, or otherwise, attendees may reimburse the host for costs related to their attendance. In such case, the per-person price of this conference is approximately US$1,650. This includes meals (valued at US$300), materials, speakers, conference facilities, security and logistical support. In addition, the regulations of certain jurisdictions allowing for the attendance and participation of government officials and employees at events with a legitimate public purpose and benefit for the government agency, subject to the approval of the appropriate agency head, at "widely attended" events, and at educational events, may be relevant to this event. Please check with your ethics counsel to verify that you are permitted to attend this event and to determine whether any reporting of attendance and/or reimbursement of costs will be required.
