Description/Significant Features:

Five bays wide, with an attached, two-bay garage on the north elevation. The door is located off center, with a paired and single one-over-one, double-hung, vinyl sash window to both the north and south, although the window spacing to the south of the door is closer, suggesting that a portion of the northern section may be a later addition, connecting to the garage. Three bays of the front elevation are spanned by a front-gabled porch, which is supported by four Tuscan columns; the porch extends north of what appears to be the original façade of the house and may have been altered or be a later addition.

Alterations (include date(s), if known):

Addition to north elevation and attached garage; replacement windows (late twentieth century)

Unknown
