Subject: Justice to Go for Giving Tuesday

Hi ToNew York,

#GivingTuesday is coming up on November 29. On this special, international day of giving we're offering a FREE Justice in Aging canvas tote bag to every new donor who gives $25 or more.

In the coming months and years, low-income older adults are going to need us more than ever to defend the important safety net programs they rely on from expected proposals to cut and eliminate them. And we need your help!

I know you probably have a lot of non-profits vying for your dollars on Giving Tuesday, but our work to ensure that every senior has a chance to age in dignity has never been more important.

Remember, if you've never donated to Justice in Aging before and can give just $25 to support our work, we'll send you a FREE tote bag like the one you see me modeling here.

In addition, every new donation will be doubled by a generous funder. So why not wear your commitment to Justice in Aging on your shoulder? I already wear mine every day to work. Give to Justice in Aging as a first-time donor between now and November 29, and we'll send you a tote bag.

Donate now!

Thank!
