Hi Chaney,

My name is April LaFever and I'm the producer for conservative political talk show, 'Tipping Point' with Liz Wheeler.

We'd love to have Gov. Haley on to interview later this week on her SOTU response. We operate live-to-tape from 4:30pmET-6pmET, Mon-Fri.
Tipping Point airs weeknights at 10pmET.

Liz Wheeler is a 26 year old, young conservative hailing from the heart of the Midwest. During college, Liz served on the Board of Zoning Appeals for her hometown in Ohio (and was the youngest person in the city's history to hold that position). At the same time, Liz co-authored a book with 13 other young Americans about being a millennial generation conservative. The book, titled, "Young, Conservative, and Why it's Smart to be like Us" reached #2 on Amazon's Kindle bestseller list in the "civics" category. Liz has spoken to conservative groups and at GOP events about the role of government in our society and how to win the youth vote, and has been interviewed on several radio shows nationwide. In the past, Liz worked with military veterans seeking employment after their service. Liz also ran her own independent consulting business focused on digital advertising and social marketing. Liz is a graduate of Penn State University, with a bachelor's degree in Political Science and a minor in Homeland Security.
