Description/Significant Features:

This is a 1-story frame house in deteriorated condition surrounded by dense vegetation. The house appears to have been a front gable house, though the location of the entrance is not known with precision. The north facade is partially collapsed, with a large square window opening now disfigured by the sagging frame, with much of the roof cladding missing. The house is clad in weatherboard, while the roof featured exposed rafter tails. A frame enclosure surrounding a well pump is located in the yard a short distance from the house (site 1192.01).
