NASUAD Represented on HCBS Quality Panel

The National Quality Forum, the organization that endorses quality measures for the U.S. healthcare system, is embarking on a two-year project to identify new quality measures for home and community-based systems. That work will be guided by a 20-person committee beginning in February. NASUAD will be represented on the committee by Deputy Executive Director Camille Dobson. Ms. Dobson, who joined NASUAD last July after 10 years with CMS, will represent the interests of States providing HCBS services; she will be joined by Patti Killingsworth, Director of Tennessee's MLTSS program, TennCare CHOICES. The NQF project will provide three separate opportunities for public input and comment.

From the Administration

Centers for Medicare & Medicaid

CMS Announces Next Innovation Accelerator Priority Areas, Including HCBS

On a blog post from December 29, CMS provided updates on the Medicaid Innovation Accelerator Program (IAP) as well as an announcement of future priority areas. Officially launched in July 2014, the Medicaid IAP is a new initiative launched by the Center for Medicaid and CHIP Services (CMCS) and the Center for Medicare and Medicaid Innovation (CMMI). The goal of IAP is to improve health and health care for Medicaid beneficiaries by supporting states' efforts to accelerate new payment and services delivery reforms. The IAP provides technical assistance and opportunities for rapid learning and will be closely coordinated with ongoing Medicaid delivery and payment reform activities, as well as the Medicare-Medicaid demonstrations and other CMMI initiatives. The first area of emphasis is services for Substance Use Disorders. In the blog post, CMS announced that the next three areas will be:

1. Super-utilizers of health care services (target launch in Spring 2015);
2. Community integration to support long-term services and supports (target launch Summer 2015); and
3. Physical/Mental Health Integration (target launch Fall 2015).

NASUAD is pleased that CMS recognizes the critical role that LTSS plays in the overall Medicaid system, and that the IAP has decided to allocate resources to improve community integration under Medicaid LTSS. At our fall HCBS conference, attendees had an opportunity to provide feedback to CMS officials on the importance of LTSS for the health and wellness of Medicaid beneficiaries. We appreciate that CMS IAP staff heard state concerns and included LTSS as a part of this important initiative.

Key Staff Depart CMS This Month

CMS Administrator Marilyn Tavenner has announced the late January departures of both Cindy Mann, Deputy Administrator and Director of the Center for Medicaid and CHIP Services (CMCS), and Melanie Bella, Director of the Medicare-Medicaid Coordination Office (MMCO), from the leadership ranks at CMS.

Cindy has served as the Director of CMCS since 2009 and during that time, has led CMS through the implementation of CHIPRA and the Affordable Care Act (ACA), as well as the promulgation of significant regulations affecting Medicaid prescription drug benefits, Medicaid eligibility and enrollment as well as home and community based services. She has been a passionate advocate for increased health insurance coverage of low-income Americans and for a focus on quality improvement in public programs. NASUAD members have worked closely with Cindy and have appreciated her accessibility and willingness to discuss policy in an open and forthright manner.

Melanie Bella joined CMS shortly after passage of the ACA to implement efforts to better align Medicare and Medicaid in providing services to those dually-eligible for both programs. As the first director of MMCO, Melanie designed and launched demonstrations across the country to test new delivery system and payment models for dual eligible beneficiaries. Melanie has also partnered with our members on these demonstrations and worked to minimize administrative burdens on the States to the extent possible.

The leadership of both Cindy and Melanie will be missed.

Coupled with the departure of Barbara Edwards, Director of CMCS' Disabled and Elderly Health Programs Group, at the end of December, CMS will have new leadership driving policy on home and community based services. While permanent replacements are sought, the interim leadership at CMCS, MMCO, and DEHPG includes:

- Vikki Wachino (vikki.wachino@cms.hhs.gov) - Acting Director of CMCS
- Tim Engelhardt (timothy.engelhardt@cms.hhs.gov) - Acting Director of MMCO
- Alissa DeBoy (alissa.deboy1@cms.hhs.gov) - Acting Director of DEHPG
