Two friends of mine have asked if you would say hello to their children when they tour the statehouse. One is the Chief Advice Counsel for LLR and her daughter's class is visiting May 12th. The other is a home school mom of four and she can visit anytime. I would assume for her it would just be taking a quick picture with her children. If you are available at the times of their visits, can I ask Nicole to block a few minutes on your schedule? Thanks!
