Oops! We made a mistake.

This morning AgingCare.com experienced a glitch in its system that caused a 2014 email with the subject line "Have Medicare, but still paying out-of-pocket?" to be accidentally resent. Please disregard the message you received earlier, as it contains broken links and outdated data and contact information. We apologize for any inconvenience this may have caused you.

The 2016 Medicare Open Enrollment period begins on October 15 and lasts until December 7. If you are interested in learning more about the upcoming enrollment period and options for changing your health coverage, please visit our comprehensive Medicare Open Enrollment Guide.

Thank you for your understanding and ongoing support.
