Dear Friends:

On this Thanksgiving Eve, we are full of gratitude — thankful for our public school teachers who are shepherding our future through today's classrooms, thankful for our students who represent our hope for a better world, and thankful for our supporters, like you, who make all of our thanks possible.

That's why we're inviting you to join our #ReasonsToGive campaign. Between now and #GivingTuesday on November 27th, we are giving you tens of thousands of reasons to give to SC Future Minds - starting with the 750,000 public school students who need our help. With your gift, we will reach more students and educators through our unique programs, like 'My First Library', the #TeacherHero campaign and our new business-led policy initiative, "Education for the Economy."

Donate Now!

Just this past week, we also gave thanks for The Post and Courier's Special Report, "Minimally Adequate," which highlighted in stunning detail the challenges faced by South Carolina's educators, students, and indeed our entire public education system. Happy, happy Thanksgiving to you and yours, with deep gratitude for your support!
