I am writing on behalf of my daughter who is a resident of Greenwood, SC. I will start off saying I was a SC resident. The problem is that my daughter was getting a divorce and the year was up and they were signing the papers when her ex-husband became very ill ( he was diagnosed with cancer) and she took him back into her home to provide the initial care he needed. He is an abusive person plus he says inappropriate comments (vulgar,sexual) in front of her children. She has been told there is no way to pick up the divorce proceedings from the date before he became ill. My thoughts are that she did the christian thing to do since he had no family there. He now refuses to get out of her home (it is her home and only in her name) and she is being punished for doing a kind deed. She had to leave the home on Sunday as he became violent and threatened "To have someone come and take her out". She called the police and filed a report. She is staying with me in Charlotte because she is afraid for herself and her 11 year old daughter, who she had to take out of school. I know I have rambled and am more than willing to have you speak with me in person on the phone or my daughter. If there is anything you can do to help her with this situation, we would greatly appreciate it. Thank you for taking the time to read my note.
