Nikki,

It used to be easy to blame end users for careless mistakes, but it's become much harder to spot fake emails, websites, and domains.

Join our webcast, "Uncovering attacks before they launch"

<<http://go.opendns.com/jkxM0309O107k0HOP8c0l00>> and learn how to expose an attacker's infrastructure before an attack and proactively protect your employees and customers.

Not only can you uncover related attacker infrastructure that shares the same network space, but now you can even find newly registered domains that contain your brand name and are likely to be used in targeted phishing campaigns.
