If you have a minute, hold off on posting- I didn't have the camera for these pictures yesterday so I just used the video camera to take stills so the quality is low. It didn't matter because they already hired a photographer to take pictures anyway for this. Her name is Molly Harrell and I emailed her yesterday (and again just now as a reminder) to send me the group picture and the pic with Hootie. Her pictures will be much better. So if you can hold off, do, if not then these will suffice.
