Governor Haley,

Governor Abbot has proven that states governors have the power to govern their respective states. Please take note on the attached link how strong executives protect their constituents from a runaway federal government. We are depending on you to stand up for us.

S. 198 Subcommittee Hearing Tomorrow!!!

Convention of States Action
james --

Hello Convention of States Project supporter!

This Wednesday (tomorrow), a South Carolina Senate Judiciary Subcommittee will be holding a meeting/hearing on our Article V Convention of States application resolution (S 198).

This is a critical juncture in the legislative process for moving this effort forward. We are trying to join the other states that have passed this identical resolution. If it is possible for you to attend this hearing, your presence would send a strong message to the committee members that you want them to pass this resolution that can literally help save our great country. The subcommittee meeting/hearing will be held in room 308 of the Gressette Senate office building at 9AM. The bill/resolution must move out of this subcommittee in order for it to get a vote in the full Judiciary committee.

If you have not yet signed the petition, you can do so here www.conventionofstates.com and the petition will automatically go to his office. But please make the personal phone call and email to let him or his administrative assistant know that you live in his district and that you want him to support S 198.

Respectfully,

Bob Menges

South Carolina State Director
