I have witnessed at least a dozen accidents in this stretch in 3 years. Same issue every time, speed is always a factor. There is no way to justify 55mph here.

Broad River is extremely dangerous especially with the new development, schools, and increased traffic to and from Jenkinsville. It is honestly terrifying when I have to turn onto Broad River from my neighborhood, Westcott Ridge.

i go through there often and notice how traffic speeds. I have also pulled out from this very same neighborhood and have almost been hit by oncoming traffic. It's in a terrible spot being on a curve also. I would maybe even propose bringing it down to 35 or 40. Maybe from spring Hill high to the interstate.

Trying to enter and exit Wescott Ridge is very scary, especially since the neighborhood is coming from a blind curve. Someone will end up losing their life if the speed limit is not reduced or enforced.
