

You're Invited

On behalf of Dr. Terry Michalske, Savannah River National Laboratory (SRNL) Director, you are cordially invited to join us in celebrating ten years as a Department of Energy National Laboratory, and over 60 years of dedicated service to our country.

The morning will begin with a Summit to discuss the future opportunities for SRNL and to share prospective from key partners and stakeholders. Following this, a public ceremony and lunch will be held for our entire laboratory staff. We hope you can join us to celebrate our historic contribution and vibrant future of national services.
