Subject: Leadership Development Webinars - Access trainings right from your desk

No matter where you live, you can easily access 60-75 minute webinars of some of ACHIEVE's workshops right from your desk.

Coaching Strategies for Leaders - Conflict, Performance, Change

Effective leaders inspire positive growth, change and healthy work relationships. This webinar focuses on providing leaders with a set of tools to bring out the best in the people they lead. It will examine the mindset necessary to lead others through the difficult moments they encounter in their working careers. Participants will learn a coaching model for working with their employees to enable changes in behaviour, promote performance and resolve conflict.

Innovation - A Workplace Essential

All organizations must create a culture of innovation if they wish to be successful in a continually changing environment. Innovation does not start with hiring more imaginative people, but rather by fostering an atmosphere that allows creativity and innovation to happen and where contributions can come from anyone. This webinar provides practical strategies for stimulating and channeling creativity and innovation into organizational productivity. Participants will learn how to generate good ideas and identify which ones to pursue and implement.

Leadership and Management - The Essential Foundations

Essential leadership attributes and management skills often mean the difference between thriving or failing as a manager. This webinar is designed to help new or existing managers increase their abilities to lead teams. Strategies to assess team dynamics and to improve trust and influence with those they are leading will be presented.

Mediation - Preparing for a Difficult Conversation

Are you considering how to bring people together for a mediated conversation? Have you thought through how to prepare the parties? Preparation is critical to the success of any mediated conversation. This webinar is designed to give you the working knowledge to prepare yourself and the mediation parties for a face-to-face conversation in order to maximize the chances for a helpful and productive meeting.

Mediation - Facilitating a Difficult Conversation

Are you anticipating leading a difficult conversation between other people? Have you thought through how to mediate the conversation? This webinar is designed to give you the fundamentals of facilitating a face-to-face meeting with people in conflict in order to work towards resolving the situation in healthy and productive ways.
