Sorry we're a little late -- technical difficulties while working remotely! NOW -- sit back & relax and join Ranger Chelsea for a tour of the mansion (and some seldom seen artifacts) at Redcliffe Plantation. You are GUARANTEED to learn a thing or two! Enjoy and post any questions you might have below. We'll be glad to answer.

Valerie Lamott I am loving these virtual ranger tours!

Jeremy Collins My family greatly appreciates these daily videos. Only suggestion would be to incorporate some kind of mic with the rangers so we can hear them better.

Dwayne Deavers We have a vacation booked April 4th thru 11th on a motorcycle. We didn't know for sure if we should or not we really wasn't planning on being around anybody except to see some of the sites but we know we can't see none of the sites but we still would like too. but we wasn't sure if it would be ok. can you enlighten me on that situation?

South Carolina State Parks Parks are still open most days (they are closed today and tomorrow though). However, you may be able to enter various parks and historic sites like Redcliffe, but at Redcliffe you would not be able to enter the mansion because that's only accessible on tours. Continue to check the Facebook page for announcements or feel free to call parks where you have specific questions
