Hello Marcia and Jimmy,

Here is an article about the NIC portal in Hawaii that appeared last week in the Honolulu Advertiser. It talks specifically about how the portal has increased efficiencies, saved money, and improved customer service in Hawaii state government - the same things we hope to be doing soon in South Carolina!

Articles like this bring positive recognition to our government partners and the State of Hawaii. It's terrific when the press takes notice of the portal and the cooperative effort that goes into the partnership.

Of course, I am also proud of my team there that makes this kind of story possible.

Hope you are having a great labor Day weekend.

Dan
