Dear Governor Haley,

You are aware that recently the United Nations announced that it will send “monitors” to polling places across America ostensibly to check for voter suppression. I am sure that you agree with me that aside from the fact that any organization that places countries like Syria, Lybia and Russia on an equal moral plane with The United States is confused at best and most likely corrupt, the very notion that an international organization might have any influence upon American elections is offensive to the heritage and principles of our country.

Can you please assure me that any such attempt by the United Nations in South Carolina will be met with the appropriate resources of law enforcement, such as has been declared in Texas and Iowa? Can you assure me that United Nations representatives will not be afforded the accommodations given to legitimate poll watchers from campaigns and parties here in South Carolina?

I appreciate your attention to this matter, and I look forward to your answer at your earliest convenience.

Thanks,

Shane
